IMPORTANT DECISION .- A circular has just been issued by the General Land Office stating that, by the act of March 22, 1852, land warrantz and leca tions, not pre-empire, are assignable; but it is the decision of the Department that where locations are made by pre-emptore of their rights, under the act of September 4, 1841, such pre-emption locati as are not assignable, for the reason that there is an express inhibition in the said act of 1841 against the transfer of pre-emptions.

THEATER,-Hetr Cline made his first appearance, and left a very favorable impression. His performances on the tight rope were excellent-Indeed, we don't believe we have seen his count The feat of supporting himself upon a chair, setting a table before him, placing on it candles, bottles glasses, and fruit, and draking, was one showing very superior stoudiness of nerve and sureness of foot. It activity is also very great, and we have no doubt be will draw a crowd to-night. Mrs Gladstane takes her benefit, and presents a strong bill-"Lacretia Bergie," therr Chine's tight rope performances, and the "Leat of a Lover." We expect, of course, that her numerous friends will crowd the house on this occusion, and prove their admiration of her as at actress. She will appear as Lucretia, with Hanley as Genarro.

(For the Louisville Domograf.) OFFICE OF KY. MECHANICS' INSTITUTA!
LOUISVILLE, May 10, 1856.

C. L. STANCLIFF, Esq - Respected Sir: The Mechanics' Institute, at the annual meeting held on the 6th inst., adopted, by unanimous vote, a re-solution tendering to you the thanks of the Instituse, upon the coession of your retiring from the Presidency of our association, for the energy and idelity with which you discharged the duties of our office.

Believe me, Sir, that no small degree of pleasur mine in obeyi. g the instructions to convey to you this well-deserved complement—for, as a member of the Institute, and aside from all feelings of per sound regard, I cheerfully acquierce in the grateful economical ments of our indubtedness to your ex-er iens for much of the prosperity of our Instituon. As chronicler of the Institute's transactions an opportunity has been afforded me of knowing the author of many steps of progress through which se have advanced, and the mumborship, with my-felf, unite in ascribing to you the foremest position among the friends of the Kentucky Mechanics'

Allow me, Sir (without playing the flatterer d avoiding lulsome praise), to express the hop that you may ever meet with that success you ment so richly descrives, and the wish that the Inditute may always be as fortunate in the solecion of its chief efficer. With repewed assurance of respect and esteem, I subscribe mysel; in behalf of the Institute, abediently yours, FRANK W. VOGDES,

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 26, 1855. To the Officers and diembers of the Kentucky Me GENTLEMEN: Through your Recording Secretary

W. Vogdes, Eq. (1 here received a copy of a smolution, passed at your regular meeting, highly smplimenting the course pursued by me whill resident of the Institute. Allowing, with nucl ride, to express my sincere thanks and gratitud you and all those who have endeavored, with Without experience to guide, and with a very mited knowledge as to the true policy to be pured to insure success, I entered upon the dutie f President. The tack was one which not only required industry and sindy, but foreight and side of discrimination. If I have failed, in any case, o do my duly, it has been an error of the head and not of the heart. To a man who is conscious f having performed his duty to the best of his bilitics, no hing is more grateful than the ap-toval of his associates. If, through my exer-tons and influence, the Institute has gained ength and popularity, I am satisfied. It gives a pleasure at this time to be able to hope that or ex richs wil be crowned with more abund nt success than ever before. Under a wise and enerous management, the Institute cannot but With the warmest wishes that it may be so, I remain, as ever, a co-weaker with you.

Very truly yours,

C. L. STANCLIFF.

The New York Evening Post says, possibly no single line in the language so conveys the idea of height, as the words in italics in these six lines of Tennyson on "The Eagle;"

He clasps the crag with booked hands, Close to the sun to lonely lands, Ringed with the szure world be stands; The wrinkled wa beneath him craula He watches from his mountain walls, And like the thunder-bolt he falls.

Democrat c Convention. FOURTH DAY.

CINCINNATI, June 5, M. The Convention assembled at 10, A. M. Mr. Stovenson, of ky, rose to make a report from the Committee on Credentials; the Commit-tee had not agreed, but, represening a majority, as he did, he was ready to read the same, if when order was restored, he claimed the indulgence of the Convention while he spoke the sentiments by which a mejority of the committee had been accusted. They had given three days atcention to the case. They had heard both patties claiming scats; and after able argument from both scotions of that party, had agreed, as stated, upon the noble platform which the Convention had adopted, and pledged the honor of both sections to unite and make common battle for the nominee of the Convention. It is lamentable that the great Democracy should be rent by out they have passed away and both have agreed to tury the past in oblivion, uniting on the last two platforms adopted in New York State. He then read the report and preamble as modi-He then read the reportand preamble as modified, recognizing the Softs as a regularly organized portion of the Democratio party, and the Hards as an organized body, resolving that the two sections be now convolidated, that the Softs have 44 delegate, and the Hards 26, and that the minority also regularly and the overfuled by the majority; also resolution in favor of the overland postal roads.

Mr. Hatch, of Louisiana, entered the protest or his delegation against the majority appears of the committee on credentials.

Mr. Inge, of California, moved to take up the resolution in favor of the overland postal roads.

Mr. Carlgan, of Pennsylvania, moved that the Var York delegation take no part until they subsolved that the delegates be allowed to register their vote on the platferm. He trusted that no dissensions would come into the Convention, but the report would be unanimously adopted.

Very slight applause tollowed.
Senator, Bayard, of Deleware, took the stand and was greeted by immense applause. As obsirman of the committee he was bound to make a minority report. The minority think they have no right to make distinctions between delegations but admit both in equal representations. [Immense appla se ] If the committee had been ion, he regrotted it, but could not flinch from

The report was reviewed upon the action of the committee, and goes into argument to show that the Hards are the regular Democracy and the Selis seconders, sometimes acting together, and at other times soparately. The report finally concludes with the following resolutions:
Resolved, That the two delegations from New to be entitled to the seventeen votes of the State to be cast alternately by the two delegatious, the wissy-lull and lower. Small sales at 261/207c, Soits casting its vote the first time.
